The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,2,4,22,23,24,25,27,31,32,33,34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gessert 5,924,577. Note Figure 5. Note Horizontal base 6; vertical central wall 56 extending upward from the base with a storage area on both sides of the central wall; separating planks 32; supporting planks 34; separating fingers 12', 12".

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 13,14,15,16,17,18,19,20,21,26,28,29,30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gessert '577 in view of Wishart et al. 6,739,463. Gessert '577 teach the device absent vertical adjustability of the horizontal members. Wishart et al. teach a rack having vertical adjustability of the horizontal members for the purpose of accommodating different size articles stored thereon. To modify Gessert with vertical adjustability of the horizontal members 32 as taught by Wishart for the purpose of accommodating different size panels would have been obvious for one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention. The exact means for attaching the vertical and horizontal members is a matter of choice as is the size and shape of the rack for one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention.

Claims 5,6,7,8,9,10,11,12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Similar racks are illustrated by Maurer et al. 3,349,924 and Allen 2,865,513.
